Summary

Communication about what is happening in the region with the new disease is a little uneven and many media do not agree on the information based on that we have decided to create a site where the information is accurate and reliable, comparing data as recent as possible and from reliable sources. This would help to keep people better informed about COVID-19, as the disease progresses and at the same time that problems or victims has led to disease to issues such as the economy and environment.

How We Addressed This Challenge

We have tried to compare, as growth and propagation has helped and also endangered the environment in different areas, in these too it brought about great changes that we are trying to translate into action. We decided to show relevant information even about covid-19 in our country (Panama) so that people who do not understand scientific issues can understand it without problems.

Our Project

Little did we know about this contest, thanks to a teacher who inspired us to enter. We chose this challenge because we are confident in our ability and experience to withstand work under pressure.

Although we don't have many hardware resources, we tried to use the ones we have at our disposal. Because of the pandemic, getting a good team has not been difficult.

KINGDOM SEEKERS

Those who try to rush the end may end up delaying it. And those who are trying to delay it may be promoting it.
